Within the grounds of Vis-en-Artois British Cemetery, which is west of Haucourt on the north side of the main road, will be found the Vis-en-Artois Memorial. This Memorial bears the names of over 9,000 men who fell in the period from 8 August 1918 to the date of the Armistice in the Advance to Victory in Picardy and Artois, between the Somme and Loos, and who have no known grave. They belonged to the forces of Great Britain and Ireland and South Africa; the Canadian, Australian and New Zealand forces being commemorated on other memorials to the missing. The Memorial consists of a screen wall in three parts: The middle part of the screen wall is concave and carries stone panels on which names are carved; it is 26 feet high flanked by pylons 70 feet high. The Stone of Remembrance stands midway between the pylons and behind it, in the middle of the screen wall, are also curved and carry stone panels carved with names. Each of these forms the back of a roofed colonnade and at the far end of each is a small building.
